PRESS RELEASE

Consequent to the news of release of UG NEET results by NTA-National Testing Agency, many aspiring candidates are approaching CENTAC office and making enquiries as to when the UG NEET counselling session would commence and the tentative schedule of the counselling session for the Academic Year 2024-25.

For information of the aspiring candidates, it is informed that CENTAC will be commencing the counselling session for UG & PG NEET courses for the academic year 2024-25 in accordance with the timelines that would be prescribed by Medical Counselling Committee-MCC.

The Information Bulletin /Brochure containing the details of entire process of counselling sessions will soon be hosted in CENTAC Website after due approval of the Government. The students are requested to regularly visit CENTAC website to keep themselves apprised of the date on which UG & PG NEET counseling will commence and other latest developments in regard to the counselling process.

The students are also informed that the cut-off marks for last year (AY- 2023-24) for UG – NEET based courses is available in the Archives section of CENTAC website for reference and information.

CENTAC would be reaching out to the students by posting all essential information through its website. In its efforts to make the entire process of counselling transparent and fair, there would be minimum human interface and maximum reach through online mode by making all information available over CENTAC portal.
